

Those who use assumed aliases resemble the Raafidah!

Explained by Shaykh Rabee

Shaykh Rabee – may Allah preserve him – said in his treatise entitled: The Danger of the new Haddadis and the aspects in which they resemble the Raafidah.

The second aspect: Extreme secrecy concerning their reality and location. On the website known as alathary their secrecy is unrivaled by any other sect. They write under assumed aliases, and if one of them dies he does not leave behind a trace. With this action they have surpassed the Raafidah, because they (the Raafidah) are known in the history books and the books of Jarh wa Ta'deel; indicted by their names and conditions; even if they use Taqiyyah (presenting outwardly something that is different from what one believes inwardly, as an act of religious devotion) and concealment such that much of their condition is not revealed.
