

The believing women will have something better than the Hoor Al Ayn

Explained by Shaykh Uthaymeen

Question: The questioner says: The men in paradise will marry the Hoor Al Ayn; so what will the women have?

Shaykh Uthaymeen: The believing women will have the men from the inhabitants of paradise. And the men from the inhabitants of paradise are better than the Hoor Al Ayn. The men from the inhabitants of paradise are better than the Hoor Al Ayn and more honorable in the sight of Allah than them. Based upon this, the portion which the women will receive in paradise may be greater than what the men receive as it relates to marriage. The believing woman in the worldly life will be married in paradise. If she had two husbands (in this life) she will be able to choose between them, and she will choose the one who had the best character.
